

USING YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION

iMBRA takes the security of your personal information seriously. The information provided to iMBRA will only be utilised for the following purposes:

- establishing or maintaining membership
- providing or administering activities for either the members or those who have regular contact with iMBRA.

iMBRA may share your information with fellow members where necessary in order to carry out the activities of iMBRA or whilst providing support to fellow members.

Only email addresses will be stored as a means of establishing and maintaining membership and carrying out the activities of iMBRA.

Any information gathered during the running of iMBRA's activities will be discarded once it has served its purpose.

After you have left iMBRA

Any individuals email addresses will be discarded following the end of any relationship between the individual and iMBRA, unless it is necessary for the purposes described above.